

Hello from...

Jessica & Johnny

We're so happy to meet you!

*"But the hands of grace and endless love...
Dusted off and picked me up...
Told my heart that hope is never gone."*

-Katy Nicole

Hello!

First, we are very humbled and blessed that you've chosen to look at our profile. Considering all the options for you and your child already makes you a great mother.

We have been through a lot together. We've longed to be parents for nine years, but the hard times have brought out better versions of ourselves; we're more prepared than ever to step into the roles of "Mom" and "Dad." Our pastor has adopted, as well as some friends of ours. Through them, we've seen how beautiful adoption can be. If you choose to move forward with us, we can't wait to get to know you better! We have so much love to give, and that extends to you too!

Our Love Story

We met through Jessica's cousin in 2006. At first, we were just really close friends, then our bond deepened and progressed into our relationship. What sparked our interest in each other was our big love for family, honesty, and the fact that we are each other's rock. Our biggest strength as a couple is our ability to encourage each other. When you've known someone for seventeen years, you know exactly how to cheer them on.

Maintaining our friendship is something we work hard to do. We'll go on date nights to the movies, restaurants, and recently we even went ax throwing! We like to mix it up, stay adventurous, and always have fun. Although, we do have our differences...Jessica is all about the Hallmark Channel (especially during Christmas) and Johnny would take the fishing channel any day over watching another "Friends to Lovers" rom com! But Johnny makes up for it by always being willing to go the extra mile for Jessica. He even treats her to Crumbl Cookies (in the next town over) when she gets a craving!

Our Values

Respect

Respect is important to us because it was a big part of our upbringings. We were taught to respect our elders by holding the door open for them and saying yes sir/ma'am and no sir/ma'am. We hope to teach the child we parent that everyone deserves fair and equal treatment.

Faith

We were also both brought up in church and we are firm believers in God. He is the reason why we are where we are today and faith in Him is how we have weathered storms together. We want to give a child the gift of peace in our savior. We are looking forward to teaching a child about what a good, good father God is.

Education

Education is something no one can take away from you. We will help push the child we parent to graduate high school and get their diploma. Both the college route and the trade school route are equally valuable in our eyes, and we will support a child no matter what he or she dreams of or wants to do for a career.

Family

Family is the sweetest thing on Earth! We depend on our family, close friends, and our church family to see us through the hard times and to celebrate when times are good. We both have sisters, so your child will never be in need of doting aunts! We also have several lovable nieces and nephews, so there will always be cousins for your child to play with and learn from. When we have family get-togethers, we hang out on the beach, eat good food, and socialize while playing board games. Staying close and coming together to catch up on life is something we want to keep going when we are parents; the more people to love a child, the better. Your child will be surrounded by adoring family members! Our dream is to take a child to Disney World and to NYC for Christmastime. We're ready to put on Mickey ears and ice-skate in Central Park...creating memories that will last a lifetime!

Home is Where... The Sea is!

We are beyond blessed to live by one of the most gorgeous beaches! Jessica likes to soak up the sun and play in the sand with the nieces and nephews while Johnny enjoys fishing.

We also have a zoo and parks all around the area that we could visit for play dates.

We recently bought a brand-new home. It has 3 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, and plenty of space for a little one to run around in. The living room is our favorite room of the house because that's where we spend most of our quality time together. We imagine lots of family movie nights and snuggles on our comfy couch when we have a child in our home. To prepare for parenthood, we have started decorating a nurse's room. We've been so lucky to receive furniture already from church friends.

Our neighborhood is a friendly place to grow up. We're friends with our neighbors and go to the gym together. Their kids are always out playing together. Our community hosts lots of events for families that have kids. We think a child would be very happy living here.

Our Promise

It's so tough to communicate through pictures and words how grateful we are that you're even considering us as potential parents to your child. This is an honor that we take very seriously. Even though it's impossible for us to know what you're feeling right now, we are praying anyway! We're praying for you to have peace, comfort, support and so much more.

Grounded by faith, a firm foundation of teamwork, and enduring hope, we never give up. If you choose us, our promise to you is that we will never give up on your child. Through thick and thin, we will have his or her back no matter what because family is forever.

If you want to move forward with us and it feels comfortable for you, we are excited about the possibility of open communication. Staying in contact and sharing updates would be a joy to us. But whatever you decide, your name will always be regarded with the greatest amount of respect in our home. You will always be a mom, and we will always be grateful.

We are just praying to be the best parents we can be and give a child the best life possible. "Whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence, if there is anything worthy of praise" (Philippians 4:8) ...we wish these things for you!

Thank you!

With love and deep respect,
Jessica & Johnny
